

Jane's Tribute to Steve

"We set up Steve's Tribute in the first few days after he passed away. It was really important to us to raise funds for Rennie Grove and as a family, seeing the total raised in Steve's name climbing so quickly gave us great comfort.

"It helped us find meaning in what had happened and we knew 100% it was what Steve would have wanted. To know that his passing led to other people being helped by Rennie Grove's nurses. They make such a difference at a time when you need them the most. Steve was so generous and warm hearted and would be so touched to know he made a difference.

Jane and Steve

"Another reason for setting up the Tribute straight away was so that people could easily make funeral donations in Steve's memory. Everyone loved him and so many people wanted to donate.

"His best friend Bevan went on to cycle from Land's End to John O'Groats to raise funds in his memory. And my friend Hilary, who was already raising funds for Rennie Grove, decided she'd like to do it in Steve's name too. She was able to link her fundraising page to Steve's Tribute.

Steve, Jane and family

"I think it's such a lovely way to remember someone. There's so much on it – it's so versatile – and it's there forever. You can always come back to it. I light candles on special occasions, and sometimes I'll just add a thought to the 'thoughts gallery' or light a 'thought candle' just because. And our family and friends do the same.

"Steve was so loved and is so missed. I will never stop loving him my whole life, so I'm glad his Tribute is there for life too."
